MARGINAL COLUMN

By GEORGE LEONOS

THIS much ado of the current diplomatic twist
cannot be entirely nothing. Unlike the usual run of tourists, who are not to be influenced in their itinerary by the climate,
statesmen travel to create their own, or perhaps even change the actual political climate created by such visitors as, say, Marshal Bulgaria and Mr. Khrushchev. In any case, even the controversial tour of Asia
by the two Soviet leaders,
most of the men who make policy have developed a wish to take another look at foreign parts, and the end of their peregrinations is not yet.

Mr. Anthony Eden has only recently returned from the Atlantic, and is now reported preparing to return the visit of his French counterpart, M.
Guy Mollet. The Foreign Ministers of the U.S., Britain and France are just approaching the end of their own peregrinations through Asia, and Mr.
George Marshall has left Moscow, blazing the trail for the Bulgarians. Khrushchev leaves tomorrow for the next month. The Russians will hardly have ended their 10-day
stay in Britain on April 15
before the West German Foreign Minister, Herr Heinrich von Brentano, will be over for a briefing on the results.
All these travels will prove to have been significant, no doubt, and the fact that Mr.
Molotov, now Minister for Electric Power Stations, is going abroad after having been proved wrong and relieved of his premiership, is in itself a portent.

It should not be long, however, before the dusty maze traced on the map by these diplomatic tours begins to show a pattern comprehensible to the layman. As regards Asia,
for example, the Eden-Guy meeting, though it turned out to be the Karachi meeting of the SEATO Council, the central reason for the presence of Messrs. Dulles, Lloyd and Pineau in that part of the world, was not the most important. The positive result of the SEATO talks was that Pakistan remained in the organization, though this decision was preceded by a sharp difference of opinion between Mr. Lloyd and Pakistani leaders as to whether the meeting should deal with the question of Kashmir—
governed by India and claimed by Pakistan. On the other hand, the Eden-Guy meeting was a valuable opportunity for the French Prime Minister to explain to Mr. Anthony Pineau in North Africa to Col.
Abdul Nasser, and perhaps dissuade him from siding the rebels in the French territory.

MARSHAL Bulgaria and Mr. Khrushchev are expected to give the British Government an opportunity to test their views on the question of German reunification, which remains the central problem in Europe for all that the world press has recently confined it to its inner pages. For their part, the Soviet leaders may be expected to fill British ears with economic theories on the subject of increased East-West trade, for which said ears are believed to have been completely incised. But their 10-day sojourn in Britain is expected to permit the Anglo-Soviet discussions to range over a far wider field, in which some of the ground has no doubt been prepared by the French Prime Minister's visit to various problems in the Middle East will be included, as consistently demanded by the Labour Opposition in the Commons.

Eden: Turk Consent On Cyprus Needed

LONDON, Wednesday.—Sir Anthony Eden today ruled out any Cyprus settlement without Turkey's consent. The Prime Minister chided Greece for her lack of gratitude towards Britain. "I have never felt and do not believe now that Cyprus is an Anglo-Greek question or can ever be treated as such," he told the Commons.

He demanded a vote of confidence on his action in ending the Cypriot Leader, Archbishop Makarios, to a remote Indian Ocean island and the break-off of negotiations.

He said that Cyprus was of great strategic importance today that he thought terrorism had not reduced the effectiveness of Cyprus as a military base. He declared that it was not intended to bring more troops to Cyprus at present.

As a sign of the growing breach with Greece over Cyprus, he challenged Premier Constantine Karamanlis who said yesterday that American aid had saved Greece from Communism. "It was the British Government and forces which in the closing months of 1944 and in 1945 delivered Greece from Communist rule."

House Astounded
His references to Cyprus as a Turkish strategy hit the House like a bombshell. They followed charges by the Labour Party's new Colonial spokesman, Mr. Aneurin Bevan, that the Government's lack of policy had led to "further humiliation" from Washington.

Mr. Bevan, moving a motion censuring the Government for its "failure" to reach a settlement on Cyprus, said, "The ambitions of the Cypriots could be satisfied within the framework of the Western alliance. So for the life of us we cannot understand why it is that negotiations have failed." Considerably more than half of the total will go for long range investment goods.

50 Algerian Rebels,
24 French Killed

ALGERIA, Wednesday (Reuter).—At least 50 Algerian rebels were killed in the past 48 hours of bitter guerrilla warfare.

A number of the rebels were killed when they ambushed a French military convoy on a mountain road east of Algiers last night. Three French soldiers were seriously wounded in the ambush.

In yesterday's fighting, 13 French soldiers were killed in two clashes. The rebels killed 15 dead behind them at Four Toub. In smaller clashes, another 20 rebels were killed, six wounded and 30 captured, some with their arms and ammunition.

In the Bougie area a French patrol stumbled on the bodies of 18 young rebels, some in uniform, believed to have been killed in a clash between rebel bands.

Premier Guy Mollet said in Paris today that French troops in Algeria will be considerably reinforced by men already serving in the Army. He made one more appeal to the Algerian rebels that "while we are ensuring order we shall also promote reforms. Those Moslems who have taken arms because they believe that they are thus better defending an ideal of liberty and justice must today admit that our policy is liberal and just."

Curfew in Nicosia After Briton Killed

NICOSIA, Wednesday (Reuter).—British troops made a house-to-house search in the heart of Nicosia's Greek quarter today for terrorists who killed a British police sergeant in a street-gang attack. The curfew was imposed in the capital—was clamped down and the area was sealed off with barbed wire after the shooting.

The renewed violence came as Cyprus was in the grip of the fourth day of an island-wide strike in protest against the deportation of Archbishop Makarios.

The British Secretary of State for War, Mr. Anthony Head, told a press conference today that he thought terrorism had not reduced the effectiveness of Cyprus as a military base. He declared that it was not intended to bring more troops to Cyprus at present.

Iraqi, Jordanian Kings Meet To Counter Cairo

King Faisal of Iraq began talks yesterday morning with King Hussein of Jordan, in a new Iraqi campaign to combat Egyptian, Syrian and Saudi Arabian activity in Jordan. The two Hashemite Kings met at the Iraqi-Jordan border.

The meeting followed the announcement in the Iraqi Parliament by Foreign Minister Burhan al-Din Hashimiyah, of his Government's decision to go to the aid of Jordan.

Official circles in Baghdad and Amman would give no details of the meeting. Radio Ramallah, in a brief announcement, said that the two discussed problems of common concern to both countries and reviewed the situation in the Arab world. According to the radio, the meeting took place in an atmosphere of complete understanding.

Representing Iraq at the meeting were Abdul Ilah, King Faisal's uncle; Premier Nuri al-Said; Deputy Premier Ahmed Hassan; the Chief of Staff, Gen. Rafik Arif, and high military officials. Jordan representatives included Premier Samir Rifai and the Court Chamberlain, Bahjat Talhoum.

Iraq Raps Egypt
Iraq has issued a public condemnation of the Egyptian bloc for setting itself up at the recent Cairo conference as the representative of all Arab nations.

According to a report from Cairo, Nuri al-Said, the Iraqi Premier, said that the meeting was to discuss relations between their respective countries.

Britain has agreed not to press France over the return of 15 British officers in the Arab Legion, while Jordan has promised, on her side, not to dismiss them, according to a semi-official Arab source.

Earlier yesterday, Sir Alec Kribbie, former British Ambassador in Jordan and a close friend of the royal family, delivered to King Hussein a special sealed message from Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden. Meanwhile, members of the Syrian military staff met in Damascus yesterday, under the chairmanship of Defence Minister Rashed Bazzal, to discuss the Syrian-Israeli border situation.

Nasser Tells Pineau:
Stop Arms to Israel

CAIRO, Wednesday.—Foreign Minister Christian Pineau of France was told today by Premier Abdel Nasser that the Egyptian Government regards French arms supplies to Israel as a "blatant violation of the policy detrimental to the Arab."

M. Pineau, the first French Foreign Minister ever to visit Egypt, arrived this morning from New Delhi and also conferred with the Heads of State of Syria and Saudi Arabia.

Abdel Nasser was understood to have told M. Pineau that France should strike a balance by giving similar arms to the Arab states. Arab sources believe that the same stand was taken later by King Saud of Saudi Arabia and President Shukri al-Kuwatli of Syria.

B-G: Only Arms Will Avoid War; Nasser: Israel 'Menace'

NEW YORK, Wednesday (UP).—Premier David Ben-Gurion said last night that he could not believe the Western powers would let Israel go without giving her modern weapons. "I don't believe it can happen," he said when asked by the Columbia Broadcasting System's reporter, Edward R. Murrow, what would happen if Israel did not get any arms from the West.

"I don't believe that America... wants war between Israel and the Arab states. Nor do I believe that France wants it and there is only one way, and one way only, to avoid war. That is to provide Israel with a modern guarantee of the same quality as the Egyptians are getting from the Soviets," Mr. Ben-Gurion said.

He made the statements in an interview aimed by Mr. Murrow in Israel and shown last night together with an interview with the Egyptian Premier, Abdel Nasser, on CBS network's programme "See it now—Egypt-Israel."

Mr. Ben-Gurion also said he could not believe the Arab states would let Israel go without giving her modern weapons. "I don't believe it can happen," he said when asked by the Columbia Broadcasting System's reporter, Edward R. Murrow, what would happen if Israel did not get any arms from the West.

Israel Protests to U.N. Council on Gaza Massing

WASHINGTON, Wednesday.—Israel complained to the U.N. Security Council today that the situation in the Gaza Strip had "deteriorated sharply" and charged that there had been a "menacing build-up" of Egyptian forces along the border.

The permanent Israeli delegate, Mr. Mordechai Kidron, in a letter to the President of the Security Council, Sir Pieter Dieren, declared: "The heightened tempo of Egyptian aggression on the border and the troop build-up have been accompanied by an increase in Egyptian political activity against Israel."

Four More Gaza
Border Violations

Four more border violations by the Egyptians along the Gaza Strip yesterday were reported by the Army spokesman.

Egyptian infiltrators penetrated into Israel territory in two incidents in the Nir Yitzhak sector. An Israeli emplacement opened fire on them and drove them back over the armistice line into the Gaza Strip.

Yesterday evening, three Egyptian soldiers crossed into Israel territory in the Kiryat Shimon sector, the spokesman continued. An Israeli position fired at them and they retreated across the border.

Pasture Flocks
In the same sector, earlier in the afternoon, Egyptian shepherds drove their flocks into Israel territory and pastured them there. An Israeli patrol fired in their direction and forced them to withdraw with their flocks back over the armistice line.

A shot was fired from Jordan territory yesterday afternoon at an Israeli policeman on the Israeli side of Baria's Village, the spokesman continued. The policeman was slightly wounded in the leg. It is understood that the shot came from the part of the village which is on the other side of the Israel-Jordan armistice line.

SYRIANS TOUR LINES
The Syrian parliamentary delegation, now visiting Jordan, yesterday toured the border lines and the Old City, NEABS reported.

Mr. Kidron said Gen. Burns, in several visits to Cairo, had been unable to gain the Egyptians' agreement to take measures to put a stop to the indiscriminate firing by their troops in the Gaza Strip. The firing goes on, day after day. The Government of Israel, he said, is unable to accept Egyptian protests of fidelity to the (armistice) agreement as having been made in good faith so long as one of its central provisions is so flagrantly violated. Israel is entitled to demand that the Egyptian troops in the Gaza Strip be kept under proper control, and must regard Egypt's attitude to this duty as the touchstone of its intentions in the future.

Mulki New Jordan
Envoy to Egypt

AMMAN, Wednesday (Reuter).—The Cabinet today approved the appointment of former Premier Fawzi al-Mulki as Ambassador to Egypt.

without waiting for word from the U.N. that the Syrians had been notified. He said that from the time the message was relayed to the Chairman of the Mixed Armistice Commission, who contacted the Syrians, until the time the rescue work was begun 35 minutes had elapsed. Gen. Burns speculated that if the rescue work had been deferred until the "necessary arrangements had been made" the further aggravation of the situation might have been avoided. He did not say how long it would have taken for these arrangements to be made.

The seven-page report is taken up mostly with the results of the investigation of U.N. military observers who questioned both Israeli and Syrian witnesses. Gen. Burns argued in the report that "even if, as asserted on the Israeli side, no landing of Syrian troops was attempted or the arrival of several other boats to rescue it 'may' have alarmed the Syrians and started the shooting which resulted in the death of the four Israeli policemen."

Gen. Burns stated that both sides violated the General Armistice Agreement by firing across the demarcation line. He recalled the Israeli Army's attack in the area on December 11 and noted that this was condemned by the Security Council. He also noted that "several incidents had occurred during the period 19-24 February 1956 when Israeli fishermen were fired at by Syrians" but he explained here that the Syrian villagers "had felt threatened" after the Syrian Army police had been running along the Lake in the north-eastern corner where the Syrians attacked.

Industry, Unions Confer on Wages

Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV, Wednesday. — Leaders of the Histadrut Trade Union Department and of the Manufacturers Association met for the first time here today to discuss the wage increases demanded by the Histadrut. The renewal of the collective labour agreement for 1956 revolves around the settlement of this dispute.

This week, the Manufacturers Association declared itself opposed to any wage increases without a corresponding increase in productivity, and prohibited any branch of the Association from entering into negotiations with the unions. Today's meeting between the opposing sides was called immediately following this declaration.

Neither side would issue a statement on the progress of the negotiations.

Mr. A. Shenkar, President, and members of the Executive Committee, represented the Manufacturers Association, while Mr. A. Becker, Head of the Histadrut Trades Union Department, and deputy, Mr. Y. Meshel, represented the unions.

Meanwhile, the National Carpenters Union has decided to ask for a wage increase of from 5 to 15 per cent.

HISTADRUT ACTS ON CIVIL SERVICE PAY

This action follows the intervention of the Histadrut Trades Union Department and the Engineers Union, the Histadrut's official.

As Municipalities and Local Councils follow civil service procedure, they too, are expected to pay the new rates immediately.

Histadrut action followed reports in some papers yesterday that wage increases for civil service officials had been implemented before those for engineers.

Begin Asks Leave to Appeal House Committee's Censure

Jerusalem Post Reporter

All was quiet in the Knesset yesterday after Tuesday's storm.

Mr. Menahem Begin (Herut), who asked for the floor on Tuesday night in order to make a personal statement and was told by the Speaker that he might do so on Wednesday, did not ask for permission to speak yesterday.

Instead, he and Mr. Benjamin Ardit sent a letter to the Knesset President questioning the legality of their censure by the House Committee yesterday and requesting that a date be set before the Passover recess on which they might appeal the committee's decision to the House.

The letter claims that the imposition of the censure was illegal.

But, the letter continues, if the committee is right in claiming such authority under Section 61 of the Rules, logic compels application of Section 61 which allows an appeal to the plenary.

The letter was handed to the Knesset Speaker, Mr. Yosef Sprinzak, by Messrs. A. Juchaczman and Y. Shofman.

The Speaker is reported to have promised an early reply as to whether an appeal will be allowed.

The debate on the budget of the Ministry of Education and Culture was not held yesterday but will take place next week, as will the debate on the budget of the Ministry for Social Welfare and Health.

Instead, the Knesset, in short order, passed the following bills:

RELIGIOUS COURTS BILL: Authorizes religious courts to hear cases of divorce and annulment. Passed over the opposition of Messrs. Begin and Sprinzak.

SUPPLEMENTARY BUDGET: 1956-57: Authorizes the Government to borrow the sum of IL2,500,000 from the Bank of Israel.

THE CONSERVATION OF LAND

The substance of the talks between Mr. Selwyn Lloyd and the Israel Government officials is being kept secret. But the ground was so well known that it is not surprising that the final statement of both sides added to say to each other.

The Israelis said—or would have said, if they had an opportunity—that Great Britain is steaming towards its own destruction in the Middle East. The British support of Messrs. Nasser and Kaddafi is openly imperialistic, and that for an Egyptian imperialism. He has carried out none of the reforms he had promised his people. His aim is to push the British—and the West—out of the Moslem world, and in order to take the place among his rivals he must make a show of force. Israel is ideal for this purpose. Of course, he might y-pass Israel by striking first where he fears least—the Suez Canal. It could be very easy to assassinate Nuri al-Said and repeat the "Gubbh" gala here. The Iraqis most probably would not object particularly. And the disgraced British guests, too, could be easily killed. In fact, the interests of the classes of the British Empire, and how it pains them that he imperial interests, and it makes it so difficult for Great Britain to show their sympathy for Israel open to all. The Baghdad Pact, which is all right, but we can tell whether it is in the interest of the British Empire to do all in its power to liquidate itself. If day, as it is doing? Is it in the interest of Israel to do likewise. And the same would apply to the British empire as not to hinder the desire for self-preservation.

Lately, the authorities have granted to exporters of import licenses and are considering further relaxations in the matter. As a result, the quality of our products has improved and will continue to improve and there will be no ground for complaints.
